

If the FCC is serious about stepping up enforcement of broadcast laws and standards, this proposed campaign commercial posing as news must be stopped or made accountable as political advertising. This issue is just as important as the decency standards.